TWISTER AT NORMANGEE

Not Less Than $15,000 Worth of Property Destroyed in Town.

Special to the Eagle.

Normangee, Tex., Dec. 5.—A cyclone struck Normangee last night about 9 o'clock. The Methodist church, recently built at a cost of $5,000, was blown down and completely destroyed. The Baptist church, the residence and photograph gallery of Claude Riley were also destroyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley were in the Riley residence at the time of the storm, but aside from some bruises, neither of them sustained serious injury.

The grocery store of Hallman & Block is a total wreck. The awning over the front of the Normangee State bank was blown away and one of the large plate glass window fronts was demolished.

The awning over every store on Main street was blown away and several store fronts badly damaged. Woolley & Rogers' iron warehouse was wrecked.

The Normangee Hardware and Furniture Company's coal house was badly damaged.

The residence of G. W. Thorp was badly damaged.

The blacksmith shop owned by Allen Wolfe is a complete wreck, and practically the entire residence district was more or less damaged.

The loss sustained by the town will aggregate fully $15,000 and perhaps more.

One great freak of the storm was the picking up of two large galvanized cisterns belonging to the Normangee Hardware and Furniture Company, which were sitting on the outside of the store, and carrying them fully one-half mile over the town, one of them striking the top of the Tremont hotel. The force of the wind was terrific and the roar and crashing noise accompanying it was deafening.

NEW SERVICE.

CENTRAL TO PUT ON FAST TRAIN, HOUSTON TO DALLAS.

LEAVE HOUSTON AT 1 P. M.

Arrives at Dallas 8:55 p. m.—New Equipment—Finest and Fastest Train Between Texas Points.

Effective December 19, the Houston and Texas Central railroad will establish the fastest passenger service between Houston and Dallas ever attempted in Texas. In fact, this train will be the most conveniently equipped, conveniently scheduled and conveniently operated of any train which will be in operation in this section of the country.

In other words it will be the Twentieth Century Limited of the Southwest, running between the two great cities of Texas, Houston and Dallas.

This train will leave Houston every afternoon at 1 o'clock and will reach Dallas at 8:55 o'clock. Also the train will leave Dallas daily at 1 p. m. and will reach Houston at 8:55 p. m.

Through this service the business men of each city will be afforded an opportunity to practically finish a day's work before catching a train and reach the other city at a very convenient hour.

These fast trains will be equipped with oil burning locomotives, baggage cars, steel coaches and the latest up-to-date Pullman parlor observation cars, with broiler service. Each train will have one of each of these cars. Then, this train, or rather these trains, will be independent of all connections and consequently can be relied upon to be on time at both Houston and Dallas daily.

At a later date an attractive name will be selected for these two trains, in fact, before the commencement of this service, and there is no doubt but that these trains will be the finest and most palatial of any now operated between points in Texas. This train, or these trains will make only ten stops between Houston and Dallas and on account of the equipment selected, passengers will have a clean and comfortable ride. Special attention, of course, is called to the all-steel cars, the first in operation in the Southwest and the handsomest new Pullman observation cars.

Both lunch and dinner will be served on this train and every convenience afforded the passengers.

Naturally this train will have the right-of-way over all other trains operated by the Houston and Texas Central and T. J. Anderson, general passenger agent, says it will maintain the reputation of the old reliable Houston and Texas Central railroad of always being on time.

This service which is announced to commence on December 19th promises to prove one of the most popular services ever inaugurated by a Texas railroad and it will be particularly appealing to the business interests.

It might be well to mention that the inauguration of this service will not affect in any way the service of the Houston and Texas Central railroad now in effect, the double service to be continued; the new trains will make it a triple daily service.—Houston Post.

THE EXPERIMENT STATION BUILDING

(From the Battalion.)

The new building for the experiment station, which is constructed of brick, concrete, steel and artificial stone, is one of the most substantial and modern of the buildings on the campus. Its architecture may be termed modern classical and as such it presents a pleasing appearance. The building is to be heated with steam and furnished with other modern conveniences.

In the basement will be situated sample rooms, storerooms, supply rooms and a special nitrogen room.

On the first floor will be located the main offices of the feed control, offices for the assistants and rooms for the stenographers. Everything is arranged with due regard to the convenience of those who are to be connected with the station.

On the second floor will be situated five laboratories, four of which are very large, one for the general dispatch of the work of analysis. The fifth laboratory is a private one for the use of the state chemist, Dr. Fraps.

On the roof will be constructed a greenhouse for use in connection with experiments pertaining to plant life.

The architects, Professor Geisecke and Mr. Dean, are to be congratulated on the excellent design and general appearance of the new building. It makes quite a favorable showing with the engineering building, and, as it is thoroughly fireproof, promises to be an ornament to our campus for some time to come.

GREAT EVANGELIST COMING.

While attending the Texas Conference, Dr. T. H. Morris made an engagement with Evangelist Lockett Adair to come to this city and hold a revival either in January or February. The evangelist is a Cumberland Presbyterian and Dr. Morris is anxious for it to be a co-operative, or union meeting. Evangelist Adair is said to be one of the greatest revivalists that has ever held meetings in Texas and has greater results. His meetings result in many conversions and in a recent meeting held at Ballinger there were more than five hundred additions to the churches of the city.
